The Author

Author's Foreword

No effort has been spared in the compilation and production of the Sangamon County Honor Book to make it authentic, authoritative, and accurate. However, I cannot vouch for all the facts contained therein, because I was, to a very great extent, compelled to take the information given me by the families of the men and women in service, by their friends, or whatever persons I could locate who knew anything about them. I secured the service record lists of churches, lodges, stores, industrial and other organizations, and was given access to the records of the draft boards and to newspaper files in a comprehensive effort to obtain some information about every person who went into service from Sangamon county. And in every case, however the information was received, an attempt at verification was made.

Mistakes have been found after the pages left the press. To the best of my ability I have noted these mistakes and given the true facts in a section of the Honor Book given over to corrections.

In the event of future editions all such errors will be corrected in the main body of The Honor Book. And if any one who finds a mistake unnoted at this time will notify either myself or the publisher, corrections will be made in future publications.

If the service record and photograph of any man or woman from Sangamon county who served in the World War is omitted from the Honor Book, it is due to their failure to respond to repeated requests for the necessary pictures and information. It is believed that those whose records and photographs are not now included will realize the scope and nature of the Honor Book when the first edition is seen, and will wish to appear in future editions. In such cases it is only necessary to forward photographs and facts to the author or publisher, and they will be cheerfully received for subsequent publications.

For any information concerning future editions of the Honor Book, any corrections desired, or any further addition of facts or photos, communicate with myself, or A. P. Bickenbach, Publisher, Illiopolis, Ill.

Introduction

By Governor FRANK O. LOWDEN, Illinois

Illinois sent 351,153 soldiers into the Federal service during the Great War. From the summoning of the National Guard to Camp Lowden in Springfield, until the discharge of the Marines in August, 1919, it was my privilege as Governor of Illinois to see the flower of the State in training camp, marching with fearless eye to the transports, and returning from overseas. Among these were the men from Sangamon County, of which my own son was one.

There was never any doubt in my mind of the record these men would make. They had a proud heritage to inspire them in their European service. Going from the State that produced Lincoln and those matchless soldiers, Grant and Logan, we could not expect them to do other than bring back our banners unsullied. We followed our soldiers in all the arduous months in which they were away from us. We followed them with love and pride. We are familiar with the great battles in which they were engaged. We know something of Hamel; we know how Illinois men were among the first there to make all the world know what the American soldier was and what he could do. We know something of the Mort Homme sector; we remember the Bois de Forges. We recall the trying days in the Argonne and those of St. Mihiel. Those names will be treasured forever in the history of Illinois and the history of the United States.

We have not forgotten the comrades who will come back no more. The memories of those brave men who fell upon the greatest battlefields of history will be tenderly cherished in the heart of Illinois and in the heart of our common country. For the living, our gratitude, our love; for those silent comrades, our gratitude, our pride, our tears.

Those who spent months in camps in the United States and had none of the excitement and dangers of battle, but who nevertheless served their country to the best of their ability, also are entitled to our praise and gratitude. Home is Illinois,—America,—the best country in the world. It has always been worth fighting for. The men now sleeping on foreign battlefields have proven that it is worth dying for.

Now that war is over, a new task awaits. It is the preservation of the liberties for which the young men of America risked their lives. It is the resumption of peaceful relations. Great problems lie ahead and our soldiers must aid in their solution. I am sure that they will not fail in the future any more than they did in the past when they were called upon to risk all.

THE THIRTY-THIRD DIVISION

The Thirty-third Division, Major General George E. Bell, Jr., commanding, had as its nucleus the former National Guard of the State of Illinois. For this reason it was known as the Illinois or "Prairie" Division.

The organization of the Thirty-third Division took place at Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, in September, 1917, and the Division trained there until May, 1918, when it sailed overseas.

The Thirty-third Division participated in the great battles which will be known throughout history as the final battles of the World War, culminating in Victory for the Allies. The first was Amiens, then Hamel, the Toul Sector, Verdun, St. Mihiel Offensive, and last of all, the Meuse-Argonne Offensive.

Men from Sangamon county were in various regiments, machine gun battalions, artillery units and trains of the Thirty-third Division. In addition to Company C, 124th Machine Gun Battalion, and Battery A, 124th Field Artillery, members of which were largely Sangamon county men, the county was represented on the Thirty-third Divisional Staff and in Headquarters Troop, in Headquarters Detachments of the above named units, in the 108th Sanitary Train, 108th Engineers, 130th and 131st Infantry Regiments, 122nd and 123rd Machine Gun Battalions, and other units of the Division. They made distinguished records.

Following the Armistice, the Thirty-third Division served with the Army of Occupation. They reached the United States in May, 1919, and were reviewed in Chicago by Governor Frank O. Lowden, State Officials and Division Commanders, and were discharged at Camp Grant, Illinois, the latter part of May and first week in June, 1919.

COMPANY C, 124TH MACHINE GUN BATTALION, THIRTY-THIRD DIVISION

Photograph taken in Luxembourg, after the Armistice.

COMPANY C

Company C, 124th Machine Gun Battalion, Thirty-third Division, was originally Company C of the Fifth Illinois Infantry. The majority of the Sangamon county men in this organization joined it during the months of March and April, 1917, after the Illinois National Guard company was federalized.

Company C, as it was always and proudly known, trained first at Camp Lowden, at Springfield, so named in honor of Governor Frank O. Lowden. Later they were placed on guard duty at the Powder Works.

In September, 1917, Company C was sent to Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., and assigned to the 124th Machine Gun Battalion, 33rd Division. Later many of the men who originally left Springfield as members of Company C were assigned to other companies in the 124th Machine Gun Battalion, and to other battalions of the 33rd Division. However, to the "Home Folks" they were always known as "Company C Boys."

They remained at Camp Logan until May, 1918, when they began the long and to them eager journey to France. They sailed May 16, 1918, on the U. S. S. Mt. Vernon.

Landing in France May 26, Company C men were subsequently in various camps, constantly moving forward, and getting under preparation for their part in the big closing battles of the War, which were for the most part the hardest fought.

On September 6, 1918, the Battalion was transferred by motor truck to Boises-Sartelles, near Ballycourt, and from that time on took part in the operations which lasted through the Meuse-Argonne Offensive, which started September 26, and the operations in the Troyon Sector, which ended with the Armistice on November 11, 1918.

The "Big Days" in Company C's history can be set forth beginning with June 20-21, 1918, when the Thirty-third Division, of which Company C was part, moved into the Amiens Sector where a great German rush was expected.

On August 23, 1918, the Division was transferred from the British Front to the First American Army in the Toul Sector.

September 6, 1918, they started for Verdun. Here they relieved the French on the 7th, 8th and 9th, the first American division to hold positions on the historic battlefield.

On September 26, 1918, Company C furnished a barrage for the infantry during the attack on the Forges Sector. They remained in that territory until October 9.

On October 15, Company C relieved Company B, 123rd Machine Gun Battalion, in Donneveaux Woods, remaining there until relieved by the French, October 20, 1918.

November 10-11, Company C participated in the attack on Butgniveville, going over the top at 5 o'clock in the morning and continuing in action until the hour of 11 o'clock, when the Armistice went into effect.

It was in this engagement, on the last day of war, and in the last hour, that Company C lost six men. One loss of life had previously been suffered.

The history of Company C is one of pride to Sangamon county. And in saying the history of Company C, that means the men who were in the company originally and were transferred to other organizations, in the same Division.

BATTERY A, 124TH FIELD ARTILLERY,

BATTERY A

Battery A, 124th Field Artillery, Thirty-third Division, was formerly "Troop D" of the First Illinois Cavalry. Federalized in March, 1917, the organization was assigned to Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., in September of that year, and became part of the Thirty-third, or Illinois, Division.

They remained at Camp Logan until May, 1918, sailing overseas at that time.

The story of Battery A is one of heroism. They first went into action September 13, 1918, at Mon Sec, and were in action constantly until the signing of the Armistice on November 11 terminated operations. Once they were withdrawn for four days, but went in again at the same point.

They supported with their artillery fire seven American divisions, the First, Second, Thirty-second, Thirty-fifth, Forty-second, Eighty-ninth, and Ninety-first.

THIRTY-THIRD DIVISION
Tex., before sailing overseas.

They made a total advance of sixty kilometers, and fired 16,470 rounds of ammunition. They laid down one-third of all the wire laid in the signal detail work of the First Battalion during the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne Offensives. The towns captured from the enemy under their artillery fire were Very, Epionville, Clerge, Eclairfontane, Gesnes, Romagne, Bantheville, Nouart, Tailly, Beauclair, Beaufort, Laneuville, Stenay, Pouilly, Inor, Cervisy, Cesse, and Martincourt.

They were in the closing battle of Verdun and the entire engagement of the Meuse-Argonne Offensive, from October 26 until November 11. After the Armistice they served with the Army of Occupation. Battery A was commanded by Major Charles E. Wheeler of Springfield during its service.

Battery A was composed largely of Springfield and Sangamon county men. Nineteen of the local officers and men received citations for gallantry and bravery in action, and several others received Distinguished Service Crosses. Some of their number paid the Supreme Penalty, and others will carry the scars of wounds received in action to the last.

OTTIS' UNIT

Unit W, in command of Lt. Col. Daniel Mortimer Ottis, was organized by Dr. Ottis in Springfield in April, 1917. The Unit consisted of twelve doctors, twenty-one registered nurses, and fifty orderlies. The Unit was first organized under the American Red Cross, but was federalized when complete.

The doctors were Sangamon county physicians. The nurses were local nurses and others nursing in the county. The orderlies were from Sangamon and neighboring counties.

The Unit was drilled at the State Arsenal in Springfield for two months by Col. W. Campbell. The orderlies received some training as doctors' helpers at St. John's Hospital in Springfield. January 22, 1918, the Unit was called to Ft. McPherson, Ga., where it went into training in military service.

As a body, Unit W sailed overseas May 11, 1918, on the Ascania, landing in England. They were stationed for short intervals in Liverpool, London, Southampton, and Plymouth. At Plymouth they opened a Camp Hospital. They were then transferred to Liverpool and assigned to Camp Hospital No. 40, at Camp Knotty Ash, near Liverpool, where they were stationed from June 4, 1918, to May 1, 1919.

While at Camp Knotty Ash they were engaged in the hardest of work caused by the flu epidemic. At this place they lost three of their members, Dr. Frank D. Fletcher, James Rollman, and Miss Geneva Casstevens.

In May, 1919, the Unit left for the United States, and were mustered out at Camp Grant, Ill., May 26, 1919.

Tuttle's Unit was recruited in Springfield in April, 1917, comprising men from Springfield and vicinity, and became the Medical Detachment of the old Fourth Illinois Infantry. They received training in anatomy, first aid, hospital nursing, litter bearing, dispensary work, and X-Ray work at St. John's Hospital. Their military training was given in drills at the State Arsenal and hikes.

Col. Tuttle was summoned to Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., for duties with the Thirty-third Division, and Major Frank P. Auld, M. C. U. S. A., assumed command of the Unit, being succeeded overseas by Major Humphrey, of Union, N. Y.

In September, 1917, the Unit was transferred to Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., and attached to the 130th Infantry, Thirty-third Division. They remained at Camp Logan until May, 1918, when they sailed overseas with the Division.

The Medical Detachment served with their regiment all the time it was in action, working up to the front lines. The Unit was divided, with some members in each battalion, and cared for the wounded of their regiment. Several of the members of the Unit were cited for bravery in action.

After the Armistice they served with the Army of Occupation.

Spaulding, and Judge J. B. Weaver.

THE HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

On June 24, 1919, Sangamon County welcomed home her men and women who served their country during the great World War.

On that day, glorious with sunshine and unclouded skies, and thrilling with joy and thankfulness reflected from the hearts of the people, a celebration so great and spontaneous, so happy and heartfelt that it outrivaled every other demonstration which took place during the War, even the sobbing joy of Armistice Day, was held in Springfield. No one who participated in the celebration will ever forget it.

While all the county's men had not yet returned, the Homecoming Celebration was held at a time when most of them were back, and when the greatest majority could be present to enjoy it. The celebration was for both men and women, for white and for colored, for those in every branch of the service. There were more than three thousand Soldiers, Sailors and Marines in the great triumphal parade, and most of the colored service men, though only a few of the brave nurses and women in other lines of War Service had at that time returned.

Governor Frank O. Lowden, whose only son served with Sangamon county men overseas, headed the body of Sangamon county citizens who planned and carried to a successful consummation the proud event. And Governor Lowden, with General George E. Bell, Jr., commander of the Thirty-third Division, "Pride of the Prairie State," of which Company C and Battery A were a part, and Brigadier General H. D. Todd, were the speakers of the day.

The great parade of service men through the city streets began the day, which went from one climax of joy to another, from one gale of happiness and outpouring of spontaneous welcome to another of laughing, shouting gladness. All Sangamon county joined in the tribute to the men who had fought for us while we prayed and worked for them.

Business was suspended, all occupation ceased, work on the farms was at a standstill, and the people of the county turned with one accord to Springfield, as the center of the county's great welcome.

Flags of all the Allied nations adorned the courthouse. Flags and bunting draped telephone poles and the arches of the streets. Business houses had flags waving from their windows and everywhere the Colors could be placed. People had flags out at their homes. "Welcome" signs were up in all the windows and on the streets. And welcome was everywhere in the air; in the people's faces; in their voices; their actions; their thoughts and their hearts. Such a welcome as made our boys know how great and good it was to serve and then come back home.

The county's hospitality was poured at their feet. It wrapped them about in a mantle of love. It flowed from hearts that had been near to breaking with anxiety and pain and now were almost bursting with joy and thanksgiving.

Homecoming Day was the day we had all looked forward to for so long, the day we had dreamed of in the dark time of the War, when no one knew or could guess what was coming next, when we tried to bolster our courage by thinking: "It will be over some time, and then our boys will come home. And when they do come!"

And Homecoming Day was that day!

Through cheering thousands who laughed and even wept, who waved flags and showered the men with flowers, Sangamon county's heroes marched in the great triumphal parade when, for the first time, we saw our own men in uniformed marching lines. During the War we had been denied that sight. Other cities had witnessed giant parades of Soldiers, Sailors and Marines. Our boys had marched in those parades. But we had not seen them. So that, on Homecoming Day, it was our men who marched in long splendid swinging lines through our streets while we looked on and cheered.

Men in Khaki, men in Blue, men in the Olive Green of the Marine Corps, all our men. And hearts swelled, and eyes filled with tears, while lips smiled and hands waved, as they went swinging past.

When the line of marchers swung out on South Grand avenue, they passed through columns which bore the insignia of every division in colors, and under canopies of flags and bunting. At Lowell and South Grand avenues the parade swept by the reviewing stand, and every form was erect and jaunty, for on the stand were Governor Lowden, General Bell, and General Todd, with city and county officials, to review them as they passed.

At Washington Park, where the parade ended, addresses were made by Governor Lowden, General Bell and General Todd, with Captain Carl U. Luers acting as chairman. During these ceremonies a hush fell while tribute was paid to the memory of the men who died in camp or in action, paying the full meed of sacrifice to the Goddess of Liberty, lifting high her torch to light Humanity's way.

The Memorial services were impressive and unique. A deep toned gun fired a bomb high into the air. The bomb exploded and Old Glory unfurled to the breeze. As the Stars and Stripes found a place in the sun, Bugler Hildreth Davis sounded "Taps".

As the last note of the bugle died away, twenty salutes were fired. After the salutes, bombs were fired into the air, each one exploding and releasing ten silk flags attached to parachutes, each flag bearing a star for a service man who gave his life for his country. These flags floated over the heads of the crowd assembled in memory of those who were gone.

Bronze medals were then presented to the families of the Gold Star men, each medal giving the name and service record of the man it honored. At the close of the ceremony another large silk American flag was shot into the air and floated out as a glorious symbol of the sacrifice the dead heroes had made. So did Sangamon county honor the men who made the supreme sacrifice.

Boxing and wrestling matches were staged during the afternoon for the entertainment of the men, and games of every sort, in which they participated or looked on, as they desired.

Then followed a banquet which, more than anything else, "touched the spot" Every part of the county donated the requisites to this banquet, and the women of each township were proud to serve it.

In the evening a magnificent display of fireworks was given, and the celebration then turned into a dance in which thousands of people took part. Several blocks on the smooth boulevard of South Grand avenue were given over to the dancing space, with bands stationed at intervals to furnish the gay dancing strains. This was a scene which will long be remembered. The avenue was brilliantly lighted and decorated. And while hundreds of couples moved about in the steps of the dances, thousands more stood on the sidewalks on all sides and looked on.

The colored service men who had turned out of the parade after it passed the reviewing stand, were banqueted and feted in the Arsenal, where they enjoyed dancing in the evening. And nothing was spared to give them the "Welcome" which their splendid record as fighters deserved.

THE O'CONNOR STATUE OF LINCOLN

Standing on the State House lawn, the Statue seemed the brooding figure of the Great Emancipator, whose teachings and principles were being carried, Flag-like, to the bloodstained Battlefields of Europe.

LINCOLN

One of America's greatest contributions to the forces which successfully defeated the Autocracy of Germany was the Spirit of Lincoln which went overseas with our boys and led them through horror and bloodshed to the clear victory of Right and Justice.

Lincoln was a name familiar alike to American and French, English and Italian, and meant as much to the Allies as to the people of the country which gave the Great Emancipator to the World. But his Spirit seemed to be the bright particular shield for the Armies of America, and his Name their clarion call.

His words formed the text of many a speech from a commander to his men, and his great utterances which could never be confined to the time in which they were spoken, held as much of message and strength during the World War as in the turmoil of that other war which called them forth.

It seemed, sometimes, that from his silent tomb in Springfield, in Illinois, in America, his Spirit was In Command, leading the Forces of Right to Victory over the Hordes of the Hun.

His Name and his Spirit, Flaglike, were the Standards of Democracy flung free to the winds of the World.

LINCOLN'S TOMB

The Tomb and Monument in Oak Ridge Cemetery were the mecca of many great War heroes and leaders during the World War.

American Legion:

The purpose and scope of the American Legion is well set forth in the following, written by Sgt. Earl B. Searcy, member of Sangamon Post No. 32, and State Adjutant

THE AMERICAN LEGION—A PATRIOTIC AFTERMATH OF WAR

There never was any doubt in the minds of the men who donned the uniform of the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps—and of the women, too—that, after the war, some sort of a huge and influential organization of “buddies” would come from those who survived the conflict.

It was inevitable, this idea. Thus, when a small group of men and officers from among the several divisions and organizations in France met in Paris in March, 1919, to lay tentative plans for suggesting to the service people that they get together in a post-war fraternity, it did not take long for the notion to take hold. Obviously, a few individuals, no matter how high their ideals, could not assume to organize the more than four millions of men and women. Ships were, by that time, bringing back our warriors, so it was decided that a caucus of national scope would be the best means by which to launch the big idea. This “caucus” was held in St. Louis, Mo., May 8-10, 1919. Eleven hundred service people from every state in the Union and from every territory, attended that memorable meeting. It was really a convention, and an enthusiastic one.

The name, “The American Legion,” had been long pondered. This caucus-convention adopted it, provisionally. November, 1919, was set as the month in which to hold the first bona fide convention, and Minneapolis, Minnesota, was determined upon as the place.

Which brings us to Illinois' participation in the big movement. One hundred and twelve service men went to that St. Louis meeting to see what the plan was and to get information for future work. Practically all of them were voluntary delegates. Out of this 112 grew the temporary state organization, with George G. Seaman, of Taylorville, as its chairman, and Earl B. Searcy, of Springfield, as its secretary. The plan was to divide up between the commissioned and enlisted personnel. Seaman represented the former, the secretary the latter. Chicago was picked as temporary state headquarters and the work was on. Struggles through the summer and fall months of 1919, mainly financial, led up to October 17 and 18, when all posts then formed, and all service men and women who would and could, were assembled at Peoria to hold the first State Convention. At that convention, former Colonel Milton J. Foreman, of Chicago, was elected first State Commander, and former Sergeant Earl B. Searcy was elected first State Adjutant. William R. McCauley, a tank corps buck private of Olney, was named Vice Commander.

At the time of the State Convention there were 220 posts of The American Legion in Illinois. At date of this writing (April 27, 1920,) there are 615 posts. This visualizes the growth and the spread of the Legion influence, due to its sterling doctrines of Americanism, and its avowed determination to take care, first, of the men who came back from war with disabilities, and, second, of the ex-service men at large.

The American Legion felt, from the outset, that danger would come from reactionary, un-American groups unless curbed. Chiefly for that reason, it picked as its motto, "One Hundred Per Cent Americanism." Not that the Legion feels that it has a corner on Americanism. About a hundred million other citizens of this country—citizens who backed the boys to the limit with money and moral support—have just as valid a claim to the slogan as the Legionnaires.

The Legion is builded upon a solid foundation, with sterling Americanism at the basis of it all. It does not propose to rule the destinies of the country it helped to defend, but it expects in the coming decades, to wield a powerful influence toward this end. In order so to do, it realizes the absolute necessity of securing and maintaining the esteem and the confidence of the American public.

The Legion in Illinois is moving forward with great strides. In a few short years its organization problems will have been settled, in a large measure, and it will then be the Legion's mission to play the role intended for it—that of seeing that America is kept safe and secure for a democratized form of government, and for Americans.

SELECTIVE SERVICE DRAFT BOARDS

The work of selecting the men from Sangamon county for the National Army under the selective service ruling was handled by three Selective-Service Draft Boards and one District Appeal Board.

The District Appeal Board for Division Number One, of the Southern District of Illinois, had its headquarters at the State Arsenal in Springfield, and a number of Sangamon county men served on this board, with jurisdiction, in all appeal cases, over Sangamon and neighboring counties.

The Sangamon County Exemption Board, with jurisdiction over the county outside City of Springfield, had headquarters at 611 East Capitol avenue, Springfield.

The North City Exemption Board, or Board No. 2, as it was known, had headquarters in the Illinois National Bank building, Springfield, and the South City Board, or Board No. 1, had headquarters in the Booth building, Springfield.

When the work of organizing the Draft Boards began, Alvin P. Bickenbach of Illiopolis, Dr. T. A. McTaggart of Pawnee, and Ben F. Caldwell of Chatham, were appointed to serve on the Sangamon County Exemption Board, June 25, 1917. Mr. Caldwell was unable to serve, and Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson ordered that the remaining two members organize the board, as it was necessary for all boards to be organized and every registrant assigned a number before the drawing of numbers could take place.

Accordingly the County Board was organized with Alvin P. Bickenbach as Chairman, and Dr. T. A. McTaggart as Secretary. The Farmers State Bank donated the use of their Directors' room as the meeting place of the board, and George E. Keys assisted the board members through their first hard work, which had been retarded by inability to secure the appointment of the third member of the board.

Two weeks later Dr. J. M. Bell of Rochester was appointed as the third member of the board, and the board was reorganized with Alvin P. Bickenbach, Chairman; Dr. J. M. Bell, Secretary; and Dr. T. A. McTaggart, Examining Physician.

The South City Board, No. 1, began work at the same time, simultaneous with the appointment of the board members. Jacob Bunn was elected Chairman, Philip Barton Warren, Secretary, and Dr. Don W. Deal, Examining Physician. Headquarters 504 Booth Building.

North City Board, No. 2, also appointed at the same time and beginning activities immediately, took up headquarters in Room 17, Illinois National Bank Building. John H. McCreery was elected Chairman, George M. Brinkerhoff, Secretary, and Dr. L. C. Taylor, Examining Physician.

The first Registration of men, ages 21 to 31, inclusive, was held June 5, 1917, pursuant to the Act of May 18, 1917, and was held under the direct supervision of County Clerk Charles W. Byers, County Sheriff Dr. J. A. Wheeler, and County Judge J. B. Weaver.

On May 30, 1918, Congress passed a joint resolution requiring the registration of all males who had attained the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917, on or before the day set by the President for their registration. The second registration was held June 5, 1918, and August 24, 1918, and was held by each of the local boards in their respective headquarters.

The third registration of men of the ages of 18 to 20, and 32 to 45, inclusive, was held September 12, 1918, under the direct supervision of the three local boards. These boards designated the various voting places of the county as the registration places, and appointed the men who acted as chief registrars and assistants.

The two City Boards Draft Quotas were 566, but they were given credit with 462 enlistments, or men in service, and for this reason Board No. 1 was only required to furnish 49 men and Board No. 2 to furnish 55 men.

The final report of registrants sent to camps by the three local Exemption Boards was made as follows:

IN MEMORIAM

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

(By Lieutenant John McRae of Montreal, whose body lies in Flanders Fields.)

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from falling hands, we throw
The torch. Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

The Illinois Watch Company Band divided duties with the Capital City Band to play for big patriotic meetings and when draft contingents left the city. Cooperating with the Community Band Fund Committee, the band donated one-third of the price for its services to the band fund. The Illinois Watch Company Band was organized about 1878. Up to 1920 it had never been disbanded or the name changed. Professor Louis Lehmann became leader of the band about 1882, and Bert E. SANGAMON COUNTY'S
WAR

SANGAMON COUNTY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

LOGAN HAY

Chairman Executive Committee, Sangamon County Council of Defense

J. FRANK MACPHERSON

Secretary Executive Committee, Sangamon County Council of Defense

In relating the history of Sangamon county's war activities, it must be stated that the first big comprehensive organization to spring into existence was the Sangamon County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Into this organization were drawn the active workers of the county.

Then came the Liberty Loan organization, which drew upon the organization of the Red Cross for its active workers, with some changes in the personnel.

Soon thereafter the Council of National Defense sprang up in every county of every state in the Union. The Sangamon County Auxiliary of the State Council of Defense was organized, drawing for its personnel largely upon the framework of the Red Cross and Liberty Loan organizations. Under the direction of Edward F. Irwin, chairman of the Sangamon County Auxiliary, Logan Hay, chairman of the Executive Committee, and J. Frank Macpherson, secretary of the Executive Committee, all the war agencies in Sangamon county were amalgamated in one single committee, the War Work Bureau, with headquarters in the Sangamo Club in Springfield.

The Executive Committee of the Sangamon County Auxiliary of the State Council of Defense was as follows: Logan Hay, chairman; J. Frank Macpherson, secretary; Edward F. Irwin, chairman of the Auxiliary Committee; Henry Merriam, chairman Finance Committee; James M. Graham, chairman Neighborhood Committee; Jerome A. Leland, chairman Food Production Committee; Col. Henry Davis, chairman Boys' Working Reserve; Mrs. Stuart Brown, chairman Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. A. J. Mitchell, county chairman Woman's Auxiliary; Harry A. Converse, County Fuel Administrator; James A. Easley, chairman County Liberty Loan; Sidney S. Breese, chairman Four Minute Men; George B. Stadden, chairman Sangamon County Chapter Red Cross; Robert C. Lanphier, chairman Supply Committee, Red Cross; Dr. T. J. Knudson, chairman Y. M. C. A. Committee; Robert W. Troxell, chairman War Camp Community Service; Logan Coleman, County Food Administrator; W. L. Patton, member County Auxiliary; Dr. C. A. Frazee, president Loyal League; Mrs. Olive B. Wheeland, chairman Y. W. C. A. Committee; William H. Conkling, chairman War Savings Stamps Committee; S. E. Prather, Farm Labor Administrator; B. L. Catron, chairman Legal Advisory Board.

In the townships, the work for the Council of Defense was done largely under the direction of the Neighborhood Committee, the township chairmen being for the most part the same township chairmen who served with the Red Cross and Liberty Loan.

The Sangamon County Auxiliary of the State Council of Defense closed its work January 1, 1919.

The history of the Sangamon County Chapter of the American Red Cross is contained in the final report of the Chapter dated May 1, 1919, and forwarded to the National Headquarters, A. R. C. The report follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

In August, 1916, a small group of women met at the home of Mrs. William T. Lewis in Springfield to further the call of the National Red Cross Membership campaign. They were successful in adding 1,300 new names, and sent a check for $1,300 to Washington. In the light of today such a sum of money seems a mere bagatelle, but it was unusual enough then to call for a special letter of thanks and the assurance that the officers present in the building had all come to look at that check—and Springfield was urged to form a chapter.

Early in February, 1917, a petition was sent to the National Red Cross Society at Washington asking permission to organize a local chapter, this petition having been signed by twelve representative citizens, as follows: Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, Miss Margaret Bergen, Mrs. Gaylord Davidson, Logan Hay, Robert C. Lanphier, Col. Henry Davis, Mrs. C. C. Brown, Mrs. William T. Lewis, Mrs. George F. Stericker, Rev. George T. Gunter, Mrs. John McCreery.

In February, 1917, temporary officers and committees were named and a few weeks later at a mass meeting of all members of the Red Cross a board of directors was elected. On March 19, 1917, at a meeting of these directors, permanent officers of the chapter were chosen, and an executive committee appointed. The first meeting of this committee was held March 27, 1917, at which the following committees were named: First Aid Committee, Committee for Destitute Families, Hospital Supplies, and Committee to secure building for work shop.

On March 30, 1917, the Springfield Chapter, having complied with all rules of the National Red Cross Society, was declared duly organized, having for its jurisdiction all of Sangamon County, Illinois. The name, however, was changed to that of the Sangamon County Chapter on October 15, 1917.

On April 18, 1917, a meeting of the directors was called to arrange for a membership campaign which opened early in May under the chairmanship of Lewis N. Wiggins, resulting in a membership of about 11,000, which was increased during the year to 12,980. With this large increase in membership, and as War had been declared, entirely new conditions confronted the Chapter, and on May 14, 1917, committees to take care of impending needs were organized as follows: Finance Committee, Purchasing Committee, Supplies and Distribution of Work, Organization of Branches and Auxiliaries, and Chairman of Woman's Work.

Something about the men and women who served as heads of the Red Cross committees:

Mrs. C. C. Brown, prominently identified with all organizations for social and civic betterment, was a tireless worker in the Red Cross organization from the time of its inception to the date of her death, helping in the upbuilding of the Chapter, and spent much time in its work rooms.

Robert C. Lanphier, secretary and general manager of a big business institution, and president of the Springfield Commercial Association, was of invaluable service to the Red Cross Chapter, looking after all purchases during the entire period of the War, and superintending the finances of the Chapter, as well as acting as general counsellor in all undertakings of the Chapter.

At least a word of praise should be given to the business concern he represented, which donated during the entire period of the War the services of its employees in packing and shipping all finished articles which were sent out from the Chapter, and saved the Chapter hundreds of dollars in drayage.

Mrs. B. H. Ferguson served on the board of directors and also as chairman of the Edwards Place Auxiliary, devoting her time to the Chapter unstintedly.

Logan H. Coleman, who during the War also served as County Food Administrator, a heavy work in itself, served as treasurer of the Red Cross Chapter.

Mrs. Will Taylor very efficiently and faithfully performed the duties of secretary from the time the Chapter was formed until her resignation, and also lent valuable assistance during membership drives, War Fund campaigns, and such enterprises.

Miss Julia Tarrent was appointed office manager when permanent headquarters were established in Springfield, July 15, 1917, and very competently handled its business affairs from that time to date, in addition to acting as secretary of the Chapter following the resignation of Mrs. Taylor.

Dr. Charles L. Patton held his position with the Chapter from the time of the organization of his committee until he entered the service in August, 1918. He was ably assisted by Miss Kate Lewis, until she herself went to France.

Mrs. Henry Davis, prominent in civic affairs in the city for a number of years, rendered most faithful and efficient service in charge of the Canteen Committee. She gave practically her entire time to the committee work and had entire management of it.

O. G. Scott and William H. Conkling had served on the Civilian Relief Committee during the Mexican trouble, and were therefore eminently fitted for service on the Home Service section of the Red Cross. Other members of this committee were Stuart Brown, Robert C. Lanphier, Fred Wanless, and Jesse K. Payton. They deserve great credit for the good accomplished in this line of work.

Mrs. John C. Lanphier was one of the first chairmen appointed, and from the beginning of the work was never absent from her post, working most untiringly, five days and two nights of each week, and retired only when the work ceased to be assigned.

Lewis N. Wiggins gave excellent service on his committee until his resignation on November 20, 1917, when he was made chairman of the membership drive of the Central Division of the Red Cross, and later became associate manager of the Central Division, with personal supervision of the Bureau of Development, with headquarters in Chicago. He was also associate manager of the Second War Fund campaign.

Edgar S. Barnes, treasurer of a big insurance company, was an arduous worker with the Chapter from the time of its formation, accomplishing wonderful results on his committees.

A. D. Mackie also rendered the Chapter valuable assistance, donating part of his company's storeroom, and also donating the time and services of his employees in handling Red Cross supplies during his term of office.

Mrs. Philip Barton Warren and Mrs. William R. Vredenburg did excellent work in their departments, keeping their shops open not only during the day but for night classes for business women. They were most efficient and devoted.

III. ORGANIZATION

The original Canteen Committee was organized August 30, 1917, and was composed of William L. Patton, chairman; John A. Barber, Charles S. Dines and Carl Klaholt. These gentlemen did excellent work and served troop trains, starting in the spring of 1918. As war progressed, however, some of them were called to the Army, the troop trains increased, and early in September, 1918, the Canteen Department was entirely re-organized with Mrs. Henry Davis as chairman and a corps of 72 active workers, properly registered, who met all troop trains as well as regular trains passing through the city and served doughnuts, cigarettes, chocolate, post cards, etc., to the soldiers. Since the new organization, up to May 1st, a total of 15,965 men have been served, 621 gallons of coffee, and 11,204 sandwiches having been used.

A Canteen hut with well equipped kitchen, rest room, etc., was fitted up and the work of this committee, which is still going on, could hardly be excelled. There are at present 50 or 60 active workers serving returning soldiers.

The Home Service Section also did exceptionally good work under the able direction of Miss Margaret Bergen, secretary, who was superintendent of the Associated Charities in Springfield for a number of years and especially well fitted for this particular line. When Miss Bergen resigned and left Springfield for Louisville, Ky., she was succeeded in the work by Miss M. Alice Hill, who had been assistant to Miss Bergen and who had been trained by her in all her excellent methods of work, having since carried on the work most efficiently.

Number of families dealt with to May 1, 1919.....	1,067
Number of families receiving relief to May 1, 1919.....	152
Money expended on relief to May 1, 1919.....	$5,402.93

At each of the State Fairs held here in the fall of 1917 and 1918, the Sangamon County Chapter had an excellent exhibit, the first having been under the chairmanship of Mrs. William R. Vredenburg and the second under the management of Mrs. William T. Lewis. These exhibits covered a display of the various activities of the Chapter, including knitting, sewing, instructions in surgical dressings, Canteen, First Aid, etc., and did much towards stimulating interest and enthusiasm in Red Cross work.

IV. METHODS OF WORK

The local Chapter organized 25 Branches and 43 Auxiliaries with permanent headquarters and offices in Springfield, Ill., of which Miss Julia Tarrent had the active management. Many of the churches had Auxiliaries, the Edwards Place carried on a most successful workroom and the Ursuline Convent had a large and enthusiastic working contingent. The Public Schools opened their doors to the women of their neighborhoods and both teachers and students gave cordial co-operation. The Masonic Temple kindly housed the surgical dressings department and the Lincoln Library gave us a workroom. The Branches likewise reported a most cordial co-operation and kindly feeling at all points.

Too much praise cannot be given to those devoted women who toiled early and late at the meetings of Branches and Auxiliaries. To each of these gatherings an official inspector was assigned, who carefully overlooked each garment and surgical dressings before it was sent to headquarters to be packed. There a second group of women subjected the work to an almost microscopic examination and so skillful did the workers become that to say the work had come from such and such a Branch or Auxiliary was tantamount to saying it was perfect.

V. RECORD OF THE WORK

The Sangamon County Red Cross Society was called on for service other than war work. During the summer of 1917, Illinois was visited by a terrible tornado which struck the towns of Charleston and Mattoon. Central Division telegraphed Springfield, and within a few hours, Miss Margaret Bergen, secretary of the Home Service Department, was at the scene of disaster with nurses, medicines, surgical dressings, and all the appliances possible for the alleviation of their distress.

During the influenza epidemic, the Chapter opened two Emergency Hospitals, both of which were under the general supervision and direction of Robert C. Lanphier, who, with his able corps of nurses and assistants, accomplished wonderful results.

The first hospital opened October 15, 1918, continuing until November 14, 1918, and was in charge of Mrs. John Caldwell, with Miss Catherine Matheus, R. N., as head of the nursing staff.

The second hospital opened December 10, 1918, operating until January 22, 1919, and was under the management of Mrs. W. Frank Workman, with Miss Catherine Matheus, R. N., in charge of nurses.

These hospitals cared for a total of 318 patients. Total cost of both hospitals, $8,299.52, with receipts of $1,382.83, in addition to which the city and county paid part of the expenses, amounting to approximately $1,500.

Much of the equipment for both these hospitals was loaned by the State Board of Agriculture from the Domestic Science School, the local hospitals were very generous, and the Red Cross purchased what was lacking.

Besides the original membership campaign shortly after the entrance of the United States into the war, the local Chapter had two Membership Roll Calls, the first opening December 17, 1917, under the chairmanship of Stuart Brown, when 31,102 members were secured, which, with 5,000 old memberships not expired, made the total membership at the close of the campaign, March 31, 1918, 36,102.

The second Membership Campaign opened December 17, 1918, under the Chairmanship of E. R. Cogswell, when 35,763 adult and junior members were secured. The membership of the Chapter May 1, 1919, is 35,942.

There were two War Fund drives. The first started June 22, 1917, of which Judge J. Otis Humphrey was chairman. Quota assigned Sangamon county, $90,000; amount subscribed, $99,158.07; amount collected, $90,979.71; cost of campaign, $2,046.99.

The second campaign opened May 20, 1918, Robert C. Lanphier, chairman. Quota assigned Sangamon county, $90,000 (this amount voluntarily raised to $100,000); amount subscribed, $139,482.10; amount collected to May 1, $132,962.37; cost of campaign, $1,571.47.

Articles manufactured to May 1, 1919: Surgical dressings, 442,902; hospital shirts, 8,038; pajamas, 5,189; convalescent suits and vests, 808; socks, 23,135; sweaters, 9,380; helmets, 3,551; wristlets, 2,856; mufflers, 1,430; kits and waterproof bags, 1,709; aviators, jackets and slings, 114; dresses, shirts, undergarments, stockings, sweaters, shawls, etc., for refugees, and miscellaneous, including handkerchiefs, pillows, spreads, wash cloths, etc., total, 13,237.

Amount of principal materials used: Outing flannel and canton flannel, 28,690 yards; muslin, 42,254 yards; gauze, 59,182 yards; cotton (absorbent and non-absorbent), 4,691 pounds; yarn, 18,806 pounds.

VI. GENERAL

The Sangamon County Chapter is still in active operation and while some of its Branches and Auxiliaries have closed their workrooms, a good many of them are still holding their weekly meetings, sewing and knitting for the refugees, shipments being made from the Chapter Headquarters each week. There has been nothing but the heartiest co-operation on the part of all the Chapter organizations and a spirit of thorough willingness and obedience to rules and regulations has been evident everywhere.

This report would by no means be complete if special mention was not made of George B. Stadden, the most untiring chairman. A very busy man, head of a great corporation, he gave unstinted service not only to his home Chapter, but to the Central Division, having been on their advisory board during several administrations, and was called to Washington in conference on the First War Fund Campaign for the State of Illinois, and served as Associate Director for the 1918 Christmas Roll Call for the Central Division. We owe to him most hearty thanks for any and all of the success of our work.

RED CROSS CANTEEN SERVICE

The Red Cross Canteen Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Henry Davis, chairman, served troop trains both during the War and after the Armistice was signed. Before the Armistice, when the movement of troops was secret, the Canteen committee alone would receive information regarding the passage of troop trains through the city.

Following the Armistice, returning troop movements made the work of the Canteen service especially heavy.

The membership of the Canteen committee was as follows: Mrs. Henry Davis, chairman; Mrs. J. P. Allen, Dorothy R. Barker, Mrs. Gladys Troxell Bates, Mrs. Margaret J. Becker, Mrs. Olive L. Broadwell, Mrs. Robert A. Bullard, Mrs. Mildred Bunn, Mrs. Cordelia Warren Caldwell, Mrs. S. Leigh Call, Mrs. Lydia A. RED CROSS KNITTERS

The knitting which was done by the women of Springfield and Sangamon county formed a large part of the work of the Red Cross so faithfully performed by its members. Every auxiliary and branch had its knitting class, and in addition to these, practically every home in the county saw this work as a part of the routine of the day. In fact, "Knit two, Purl two," was the slogan familiar to all!

The gentle inmates of the Carrie Post Home for Old Ladies contributed a large amount of knitting to the big score. These faithful women were more than anxious to do their share, and their patient fingers seemed to pick up the threads of long forgotten days, and they delighted in telling the younger generation just how all this knit two-ing and purl two-ing was done.

Many aged women in the county knitted large numbers of socks and wristlets and helmets and sweaters. Theirs was a part of the uncounted task in which the women of America entered heart and soul to back their boys, their sons, husbands and sweet-hearts, in the righteous fight against the enemy.

RED CROSS INSPECTORS

The women of the committee of Inspectors for the Red Cross gave most generously of their time and effort to the work of inspecting the thousands of articles made by Red Cross workers. This committee inspected everything, garments, knitted articles, Christmas boxes, made by all the Red Cross Workers of the county, with the single exception of Surgical Dressings.

The work of inspecting the Christmas boxes alone, the boxes which relatives of service people in France, Italy, Russia, Belgium and England, were permitted to send to their boys at Christmas time, was a tremendous task. Hundreds of these boxes were carefully inspected, packed, wrapped and addressed under their direction.

They worked chiefly at the Red Cross headquarters, and most untiringly gave months and months of their time, faithfully, devotedly, unstintedly. The same committee, with very few changes, worked together during the entire period of the Red Cross war activities.

Mrs. Ernest Helmle was chairman of the Inspection Committee, which included the following members: Mrs. William T. Lewis, Mrs. W. C. Kikendall, Miss Mary Brown, Mrs. George W. Chatterton, Mrs. A. D. Mackie, Mrs. A. S. Mitchell, Mrs. John Springer, Mrs. C. G. Maxwell, Mrs. Lewis Scharf, Mrs. George Fish, Miss Nellie Weisz, Miss Enola Irwin, Miss Mary Compton, Miss Judith Elkin, Mrs. A. Westburg, Mrs. J. E. Scott, Miss Ellen Corbett, Mrs. John Lord, Mrs. Frank Partridge.

LIBERTY LOAN

The Liberty Loan organization in Sangamon county remained practically unchanged from the time the First Liberty Loan was floated in May, 1917, until the Victory Loan of May, 1919, went successfully "over the top".

The First and Second Liberty Loan quotas were exceeded in Sangamon county. By the time of the Third Liberty Loan, in May, 1918, the organization was perfected, and the manner in which all five of the big Loans were subscribed in the county was an inspiration.

The quota for the Third Loan for Sangamon county was $2,579,800. Actual investments in Government Bonds were made to the amount of $3,716,100, an over-subscription which had few equals in the United States.

The Fourth Liberty Loan quota for the county was $5,424,276. The subscriptions in the county amounted to $6,268,800. This Loan was floated in October, 1918.

The quota assigned to Sangamon county for the Fifth, or Victory Loan, in May, 1919, was originally $3,377,500. This quota was voluntarily raised to $4,099,750 by the Federal Reserve and other outside banks. The amount subscribed in Sangamon county was $4,258,950.

The result by Loans is given as follows:

	Quota.	Number Subscribers.	Subscribed.
First Liberty Loan.....	$1,640,000	1,800	$1,802,800
Second Liberty Loan	$2,638,800	8,000	$4,471,700
Third Liberty Loan	$2,579,280	19,125	$3,631,100
Fourth Liberty Loan	$5,424,276	20,282	$6,213,100

SANGAMON COUNTY FOOD ADMINISTRATION

Logan H. Coleman, County Food Administrator, standing

SANGAMON COUNTY FOOD ADMINISTRATION

The Sangamon County Food Administration was organized in November, 1917. The appointment of Logan Coleman as Sangamon County Food Administrator was confirmed December 17, 1917, by the United States Food Administration.

J. Fleetwood Connelly served on the committee, assisting Mr. Coleman in the work of the Food Administration, and in August, 1918, was appointed Assistant County Food Administrator. A short time later the appointment of Elmer R. Cogswell as City Food Administrator for Springfield was made.

The complete committee for Sangamon county included the following township committeemen: George R. Brown, Divernon; W. F. Merriman, Williamsville; F. L. McQuitty, Curran; Frank Whitney, Chatham; Frank Sweet, Fancy Creek; Clarence Twist, Rochester; C. W. Hunter, Cotton Hill; Robert Knox, Illiopolis; John H. Ross, Buffalo Hart; Louis Shepherd, Woodside; Harry Happe, Gardner; W. C. Schaffer, Cartwright; G. P. Harris, Auburn; Lewis Bird, Mechanicsburg; Gertrude McCullough, Clear Lake; Earl Coulter, New Berlin; T. C. Shepher, Pawnee.

The first thing which confronted the Food Administration after organization in Sangamon county was the flour shortage. Under Mr. Coleman's direction, a flour ration was instituted in the county, and the use of substitutes put into effect, so that wheat flour might be saved for the men in service and the Allies.

During April and May of 1918, a campaign was put on by the County Food Administration to urge people who had flour in storage to return it to their dealers, and accept flour substitutes for it.

Then came the sugar shortage, and sugar rationing in homes, hotels and restaurants was put into effect. The use of sugar certificates was adopted, and sugar for home or public use could only be obtained on certificates from the Food Administration.

The Food Administration then undertook a general campaign to urge conservation of food stuffs, for the adoption of substitutes and the use of things which could not be shipped to the service men overseas and the Allies, and the release of food materials which would be shipped. The response was generous.

This work continued throughout the year 1918 until the signing of the Armistice terminated hostilities, and after that until the Food Administration was disorganized and the members discharged, in January, 1919.

SANGAMON COUNTY FUEL ADMINISTRATION

HARRY A. CONVERSE
Chairman Sangamon County Fuel
Administration

MISS JEANETTE I. KNOBLOCH
Secretary

The Sangamon County Fuel Administration was organized in November, 1917, with Harry A. Converse, chairman; Miss Jeanette I. Knobloch, secretary; Charles W. H. Schuck and Thomas P. Luby, constituting the county committee.

This committee had jurisdiction over the whole of Sangamon county. The purpose was to so regulate the use of fuel in Sangamon county, consistent with the program of the United States Fuel Administration, that the industries of the county might be as unhampered as possible while the maximum of fuel was furnished for the needful War Agencies.

The principal duty of the Fuel Administration was to take care of the wants of the local community, to adjust the price of coal at the mine, the cost of hauling and delivering, and the ultimate price of coal to the consumer. This necessitated constant touch with coal operators, retail dealers, and team owners.

In addition to looking after the coal supply, the Fuel Administration was required to supervise the enforcement of "Lightless Nights," which were Monday and Tuesday nights of each week, and "Heatless Days," the closing down of industry and the shutting down of heat to the minimum each Monday during January, February and March of 1918, and the supervision of the Garfield Closing Order, which required the shutting down of industry for five days in January, 1918.

The County Fuel Administration was also required, by reason of the large coal supply in Sangamon county, to assist generally with coal production and supply in the state. For the purpose of controlling the output and consumption of coal in Sangamon county, all dealers were registered and no dealers were permitted to buy coal from operators other than those registered and licensed with the Fuel Administration.

In the fall of 1918 it became necessary for the Fuel Administration to supervise the use of gasoline, and for a period of about two months "Gasolineless Sundays" were in effect in Sangamon county.

The Sangamon County Fuel Administration closed work in February, 1919, and reported that during the period of its existence the citizens of Sangamon county very generally co-operated cheerfully in carrying out the rules and regulations, however pressing and inconvenient they were, which the Fuel Administration imposed.

SPRINGFIELD LOYAL LEAGUE

The Springfield Loyal League, State Council of Defense, was organized in the Spring of 1918, and incorporated under state laws July 23, 1918. The organization was originally the Auxiliary to Unit No. 1, Council of Defense, which was organized in October, 1917, for the purpose of aiding in the equipment of Unit No. 1, the Home Guard organization of the Council of Defense.

The purpose of the Loyal League, which continued its activities and existence after the Armistice, was to assist the National and State Governments in enforcing the Federal and State laws, to inculcate patriotism, to promote the public good, and to aid to the best of its ability in bringing the World War to a righteous conclusion.

The Loyal League had a secret Espionage committee. It also did a great deal of charity work, in addition to helping all patriotic undertakings during the War.

Two big patriotic celebrations were held in Sangamon county under the auspices of the Loyal League, one the Fourth of July celebration in 1918, and the other the Victory Thanksgiving held at the State Arsenal in November, 1919, after the Armistice.

At the time of the signing of the Armistice, work was under way to establish a Loyal League organization in every township in Sangamon county. And emanating from the Springfield organization the Loyal League movement had started to be state-wide in its scope.

The officers of the Springfield Loyal League, State Council of Defense, during the World War were as follows:

Dr. C. A. Frazee, president; E. L. Chapin, vice president; William H. Conkling, secretary-treasurer; H. E. Barker, sergeant-at-arms; Rev. Euclid B. Rogers, chaplain.

FATHERLESS CHILDREN OF FRANCE

MRS. CHARLES V. HICKOX
Chairman Fatherless Children of France

The Springfield Committee of the Fatherless Children of France was formed in May, 1917. The object of the organization was the relief of needy French children under sixteen years of age whose fathers had been killed in the World War. An essential feature of this work was assistance given to the mothers of the children, enabling them to be kept at home or under the care of a guardian, if they were orphans, so that they could be brought up under as nearly normal conditions as possible, and in the faith of their fathers.

The sum required to sustain one fatherless child during a year was $36.50, and the funds obtained by the Society in America were sent direct to a distributing banking firm in New York who forwarded it to their Paris representatives to be paid to the mothers or guardians of the "adopted" children in France.

The Fatherless Children of France committee in Springfield united with The American Fund for French Wounded organization in giving benefits and otherwise raising funds to carry on the work of their organizations, and received the hearty support and cooperation of the people of Sangamon county.

Some of the children of France were "adopted" by local people for periods of from one to four years, and many of the foster parents expressed their determination to look after the future and education of their charges over the seas.

Three hundred and forty-four children of France were "adopted" by Sangamon county people, at a cost of $11,826; two hundred for two years, at a cost of $14,600; thirty-three for three years, at a cost of $3,613.50; five for four years, at a cost of $730. This made a total of $30,769.50 subscribed by Sangamon county for the care of five hundred and sixty-two children of the Land of the Lilies destituted by war.

The French government sent an expression of appreciation of the efforts of the Sangamon county committee.

The committee in Sangamon county extended its activities into several other counties, with the chairmen of these committees under the direction of the local committee.

The organization grew so rapidly in the United States that an independent American society was formed, with a distributing depot in Paris, France.

In February, 1916, a branch of the organization was formed in Springfield, and the local committee of the American Fund for French Wounded continued from that time its work of making garments, surgical dressings and comfort bags until the spring of 1919.

The organization for the three years of the existence of the local committee was as follows:

1916—Mrs. William T. Lewis, chairman; Mrs. J. E. T. Rutter, vice-chairman; Mrs. J. S. Lord, treasurer; Miss Jewel Kennedy, surgical dressings.

COMMUNITY BAND FUND COMMITTEE

The Community Band Fund Committee was organized in the spring of 1918, and was licensed under the State Council of Defense.

The purpose of the committee was to raise money to pay for band music when draft contingents left the city for army camps.

Approximately $3,500 was raised by the committee, and expended for band music on the occasion when contingents departed for camp. Much of this money was realized from subscriptions, appeals for which were made through the newspapers.

In October, 1918, the Community Band Fund Committee gave a Military Ball at the State Arsenal, and approximately $2,000 was cleared as the proceeds of the ball, adding to the funds in the committee's treasury.

The officers of the committee were: Dr. J. Bank, Chairman; Miss Nellie Browne Duff, Vice Chairman and Secretary; and Oscar Stitt, Treasurer. Mr. Stitt was succeeded by David A.
